

NATIONAL TRAINER: Multidimensional Family Therapy (MDFT) and Multidimensional Family Recovery (MDFR)

Overview

MDFT International, Inc. has developed revolutionary therapeutic processes that are proven successful in changing the lives of youth and families impacted by substance abuse and behavioral challenges. Multidimensional Family Therapy (MDFT) and Multidimensional Family Recovery (MDFR) are science-based behavioral health interventions involving individual and family therapy, skills training and community support that facilitate change for young people and families. MDFT International provides training and implementation services to behavioral health providers who deliver MDFT and MDRF in community and residential settings.
